

Two Teens, Woman Are Murder Victims

JUN 5 1977

Two teen-agers and a 22-year-old woman were murdered in three separate incidents in Oakland this weekend, police said.

Seventeen-year-old Leroy Williams, who lived at 1075 24th St., died before dawn

Saturday after he was shot several times.

San Carlos Avenue residents told police they heard a loud argument among several young men walking along the street east of Courtland Avenue.

Twenty minutes later, police were told, gunfire erupted and Mr. Williams was found lying in a pool of blood in the middle of the street.

Earlier, police were called to 3001 E. 16th St., Apt. 10, where they found 22-year-old Debra Garcia dead on a sofa with a chest wound of undetermined cause.

Coroner's deputies said the young woman had been dead several hours when she was found by a friend who came to visit. An autopsy was scheduled for today.

In the third homicide, Priscilla Taylor, 18, was found stabbed in the chest at 6:30 a.m. Saturday in her home at 2638 75th Ave.

A friend, Howard Aaron, of the same address, came home and found Miss Taylor, who had been dead since before midnight Friday, coroner's deputies said.

Police had no suspects in any of the three cases late Saturday night.
